

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

This course will provide those involved in international security with a comprehensive understanding of key transnational threats, their typologies, extent and impact and analyse the strategies and mechanisms necessary to mitigate them.

COURSE TOPICS:

- Drugs trafficking – typologies and legislation
- Human trafficking and human smuggling, endangered species trafficking , maritime piracy and kidnapping for ransom
- Movable natural resources – exploitation / trafficking
- Border security and border management
- Strategic plans to tackle international security
- New technologies to address international security
- Intelligence threat assessments
- Intelligence led law enforcement and information sharing

INTERNATIONAL SECURITY

This course will provide those involved in international security with a comprehensive understanding of key transnational threats, their typologies, extent and impact and analyse the strategies and mechanisms necessary to mitigate them.